

SHORT MISCELLANY

Biggs—Now there is talk of a sausage trust.

Diggs—No danger of that. Any trust in sausage would be impossible.

There are places in Asia and Africa where grass will not grow, and yet the most beautiful flowers and shrubs flourish in such places.

The man who really knows more than the boss usually gets to be boss. If he only thinks he knows more, he usually gets fired.—Salt Lake Herald.

While attending religious services in Lisbon in 1484 Columbus met Dona Felipa, daughter of the Italian cavalier, and married her.

Teacher—What will happen when light strikes the water at an angle of forty-five degrees?

Bright Youth—It will go out.

He—I saw several persons take off their hats in the theater this evening. She—Of the gentler sex? He—Yes; they were men.

Regularly prepared manuscript sheets were circulated as newspapers in China, Rome and Venice long before the invention of printing.

He—Do you believe the language of love is a kiss?

She—Yes. Let us talk.—Manchester Guardian.

"And you have no little brothers or sisters?"

Little Edna—No, ma'am. I'm all the children we've got!

Mrs. Blotter (of a literary turn)—And, John, please order a gallon of midnight oil. All our best writers, I am told, burn it.

He—Have you any reason for doubting what I say? She—Yes, I have. He—What is it? She—I don't believe you.

The Calcutta constable—or "parawallah," as he is called—has an apparatus attached to his shoulders to support an umbrella over his head.

Mr. Windfall—My wife wants me to buy a seat on the Stock Exchange, so here's a check for $100,000 for the ticket. The Broker—Ticket? For what? Mr. Windfall—The seat, of course! And be sure to get one on the aisle, about three rows from the front!—Puck.

"He claims his wife drove him to drink."

"I'll bet she didn't have to use a whip."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"What ails me, doc?" asked the general clubman.

"You need a job. You're suffering from overrest."—Kansas City Journal.

"How can I cure him of being so superstitious?"

"Tell him it's bad luck."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"You seem to like his attentions. Why don't you marry him?"

"Because I like his attentions."—Home Notes.

First Visitor—What a singular chin the old boy has!

Second Visitor—Singular? I should call it plural.—London Tatler.

"You know the poet says a man must be either the hammer or the anvil."

"Lots of fellows I know are more like the bellows."—Boston Transcript.

At Toronto, Ont., June 23, 1888, A. Forrester ran 100 yards backward in fourteen seconds, establishing a record that has never been beaten.

A teacher called upon a small boy to define "multitude."

"A multitude," said the boy, "is what we get when we multiply."

When archon of Athens in 624 B. C. Draco enacted laws making idleness punishable with as much severity as murder.

Aristotle was the founder of the science of botany. "The Historia Plantarum" of Theophrastus was written about 347 B. C.

Lady—You say you are out of work? What is your occupation?

Wearily Charley—I pick flowers from century plants, madam.

The largest bowlder in the world is Leviathan rock, in Victoria, Australia. The weight of which is estimated at 80,000 tons.

Amber may be described as fossil resin and is composed of carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, clay, alumina and silica.—Home Notes.

Skinniman—Your dog bit me. Do you think he's mad? Stouton—No, hardly mad, but I expect he was awfully disappointed.—Illustrated Bits.

"What are you doing, Bob?"

"Lanching a la carte," answered Bob, buying some pears from the pushcart at the curb.—New York Times.

The voice of a woman is audible in a balloon at the height of about two miles, while that of a man has never reached higher than a mile.

The bay of Fundy has the highest tide in the world. It rises a foot every five minutes and sometimes attains a height of seventy feet.

He (who is going abroad to seek his fortune)—You'll be true to me, won't you, darling? She—Ye-yes, George, if—if you're successful!

Miss Yellem (about to sing)—What is your favorite air, professor?

Professor—Fresh air and plenty of it! Good morning!

When President James Polk was on his deathbed he received the rite of baptism at the hands of a Methodist clergyman.

"Why have you quit work?" demanded the farmer.

"I just put in twenty minutes sawing wood," replied the actor who had hired out on the farm.

"Well, you ain't in vaudeville. You're playing in the 'legit' now."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"I suppose," said the beautiful girl, "that you very often burn the midnight oil."

"No," replied the poet. "I hang my hat on the doorknob so that the landlady can't look through the keyhole and catch me burning gas."—Judge's Library.

Said the optimist, "If a man gets into the habit of hunting trouble he's sure to find it."

"Yes," replied the pessimist, "and if he is so lazy that he always tries to avoid it, it will find him. So where is the difference?"—Catholic Standard and Times.

Sassenach Humorist (amusing himself at expense of highland caddie)—Hoots, ye ken, ma wee bit liddle, you was nae so muckle bad a shot the noo. What think ye?

The Bit Liddle—Eh! Ah'm thinkin' ye'll learn Scotch quicker'n ye'll ever learn gouf.—Punch.

"The office should seek the man," remarked the idealist.

"Perhaps," answered Senator Sorghum, "but an office doesn't get much encouragement in prowling around seeking anybody. In fact, it has to roost high to keep from being grabbed off the perch."—Washington Star.

"Kirby could become famous if he weren't so lazy."

"Oh, he will get famous yet."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, he takes such good care of himself that he will live to be 100 and be famed for that."—Detroit Free Press.

Johnny said to his father the other day, "Father, have you ever noticed how often mother says, 'And so on, and so on?'"

"Oh, yes, Johnny," was father's reply, looking sadly at the breast of his shirt, "but it never applies to buttons, my boy."

Little Johnny—Mamma, let's play I am your mother and you are my little boy.

Mamma—Very well, dear. How shall we play it?

Little Johnny—I'll tell you. You start to do something, and I'll tell you not to.

Gateman (at the musical comedy)—Don't you want to come back?

Castleton—No.

"Well, take this pass check, anyway. You can hand it to some chap on the outside."

"My dear fellow, I haven't an enemy in the world."—Life.

"What would you do," the bridegroom whispered hoarsely, "if by some terrible accident I should be drowned?" In the mild moonlight he saw his young wife pale and shudder. "Oh, don't, Tom," she cried. "How can you? You know I don't look well in black!"—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The little child of the tenements was enjoying her first visit to the country and was enthusiastic in her admiration of the farmyard.

"Just look at the chickens!" she exclaimed in a burst of ecstasy. "They're all running around raw!"—Current Literature.

"The physically unfit should be removed," declared the new thinker of old thoughts.

"I'm glad to hear you say so," responded the gentleman chauffeur. "It will make me feel easier in my mind when running over a decrepit pedestrian."—Philadelphia Ledger.

She—Frankly, if you had to choose between me and a million, what would you do? He—I'd take the million. Then you'd be easy.—Life.

Mrs. Benham—As the story goes, Rip Van Winkle slept twenty years. Benham—I wonder if his breakfast was ready when he woke up.

Easily Settled.

"Life here has its drawbacks," said the visitor to the cannibal isle, "but nevertheless I notice that you are not bothered by the servant problem as we have it in the civilized world."

"We settled all that long ago," smiled the king easily. "We made it a rule that when a cook quits work she shall be cooked and served by her successor."

A Pretty Strong Hint.

They had been engaged to be married fifteen years and still he had not mustered up courage enough to ask her to name the happy day.

One evening he called in a peculiar frame of mind and asked her to sing something tender and touching, something, as he said, that would "move him."

She sat down at the piano and sang, "Darling, I Am Growing Old."

Lincoln's Rules.

On one occasion President Lincoln on entering the telegraph office of the war department, writes Mr. Bates in "Lincoln in the Telegraph Office." was heard to remark to Secretary Seward. "By jings, governor, we are here at last!" Turning to him in a reproving manner, Mr. Seward said, "Mr. President, where did you learn that inelegant expression?" Without replying to the secretary, Lincoln addressed the telegraph operators, saying:

"Young gentlemen, excuse me for swearing before you. 'By jings' is swearing, for my good old mother taught me that anything that had a 'by' before it was swearing."

One day Secretary Seward, who was not renowned as a joker, said he had been told that a short time before on a street crossing Lincoln had been seen to turn out in the mud to give a colored woman a chance to pass.

"Yes," said Lincoln, "it has been a rule of my life that if people would not turn out for me I would turn out for them. Then you avoid collisions."

PROCLAMATION

In accordance with the ordinances of the town of Titusville, I, B. R. Wilson, mayor of said town, hereby issue this, my proclamation, calling an annual election, to be held on the fourth Monday in October, A. D. 1908, being the 26th day thereof, at the courthouse, for the purpose of electing

One mayor,
Three aldermen.
One clerk and treasurer,
One marshal and collector, and
One assessor of taxes.

And I hereby appoint A. A. Bethea, S. J. Norton and J. M. Osban inspectors of said election, and G. L. Mandeville clerk thereof. A mass meeting of the citizens of the town is hereby called to meet at the courthouse on Thursday evening, October 8, 1908, at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of nominating said officers.

B. R. WILSON,
Mayor of Titusville.

SHERIFF'S SALE

Notice is hereby given that, under and by virtue of executions received by me simultaneously and issued out of the Circuit Court for Brevard county, Florida, against John R. Walker and H. B. Mace, partners trading under the firm names and style of John R. Walker & Co., and the Walker Hardware Co., in which the following parties are plaintiffs in the several suits, viz:

Mellwaine, Knight & Co.; Ernest L. Rhodes & Co.; Schwab Clothing Co.; Carter & Churchill Co.; The Regal Manufacturing Co.; H. B. Claffin Co.; Boydell Bro. White Lead & Color Co.; Augustus Wright Co.; C. H. & E. S. Goldberg; Frank & Co.; Atkins, McKelden & Brown Co.; Millbury Atlantic Supply Co.; The Rosenfeld Co. and Bridgford & Co.; I have levied upon and will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, during the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the second day of November, A. D. 1908, at the courthouse door of Brevard county, the following real estate of said defendants situated in Titusville, Brevard county, Florida, to-wit:

"Lots one (1) and two (2) of Hutchinson's subdivision of land described in Deed Book 'J,' page 212, Brevard County, Florida Records, being a part of Block D of LeBaron's map of Titusville, Florida, as filed in the clerk's office of Brevard county, Florida, said subdivision recorded in Deed Book 'M,' on page 309, Brevard County Records, and all the buildings, outbuildings and attachments and fixtures thereon."

Said real estate will be sold subject to the balance due on a mortgage held on said property by Geo. M. Robbins, which balance is Fifteen Hundred ($1,500) Dollars and accrued interest at seven (7) per cent from May 15, 1908. The said mortgage is recorded in Mortgage Book 'M,' on page 104, and the assignment thereof to Geo. M. Robbins is recorded in Book No. 2 of Assignments of Mortgages, on page 39.

I will also sell the following real estate of the defendants in Titusville, Florida, at the same time and place, to-wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner of Block 'K,' in the town of Titusville, Florida, from thence run west along the north boundary of said block a distance of 99.03 feet to the northwest corner of lot two (2) of said block; thence run south along the west line of said lot 2 a distance of 54 feet; thence run east parallel with the north line of said lot 2 a distance of 99.03 feet to Hopkins street; thence run north along Hopkins street a distance of 54 feet to the place of beginning, being the north 54 feet of lot two (2) of Block 'K,' according to LeBaron's map of Titusville on record in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for Brevard county, Florida.

Said real estate will be offered in separate parcels in the order above described. I will also, during the legal hours of sale, on the said 2nd day of November, 1908, offer for sale to the highest and best bidder for cash, at the store of John R. Walker & Co., on Washington avenue, in Titusville, Florida, the following personal property in said store, to-wit: The whole of the stock of goods of the said defendants, except the perishable portion of said stock heretofore disposed of under a special order of the court. Said goods will be disposed of either in block or in separate parcels so as to realize the highest sum therefor.

J. P. BROWN,
Sheriff Brevard County, Florida.
